BIBLE STATEMENTS AGAINST INTEGRATION

ALICE IRENE STOUT, B.D., D.D.

"Where in the Bible does it state that the white race must not marry any of the dark races?" That is a universal question.

For the benefit of those who want the answer, following is a list of books, chapters and verses in the Scriptures which make the positive statements that the white race is commanded to keep its "seed" racially pure. Always remember that "God's chosen people" were of the white race, direct descendants of Heber (or Eber), who was the grandson of Shem, who was the "Father of the white race" after the flood. They were called "Hebrews" because they were the racial descendants of Heber.

Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were all of the white race. So were their wives, selected from their own family. Sarah was Abraham's niece (Lot's sister); Rebekah was Isaac's cousin; Leah and Rachel were Jacob's cousins. None of these were Jews.

The Jews did not come into existence until the white Hebrew Israelites married Canaanite wives in direct disobedience to the laws of God. Judah (Jacob's fourth son, to whom "the scepter" had been given) was one of the first to break this law (Gen. 38:1-7).

Wherever the Bible speaks of the "mixed multiude" in the midst of the twelve tribes of Israel, it means just that – a "mixture" of the white Hebrew Israelites with the dark heathen Canaanites, those who were the mongrelized children existing resulting from the "mixture" of the two races – something God abhors and warns against throughout the Scriptures.

The following references will give you some of the commands of the Lord God Jehovah of Israel on this subject. There are many others throughout the Bible:

Genesis: 9:25-27, 11:6-9, 19:31-38, 24:1-9, 24:37-40, 28:6-8, 34:25-27
Exodus: 33:16, 34:16
Leviticus: 20:24-26, 19:19
Numbers: 23:9, 25:1-2, 25:6-8, 31:15-18, 33:51-55
Deuteronomy: 7:1-6, 22:10, 23:1-8
